Horace Calvo dies; praised for service

By Bob Slate
Staff writer

Illinois Supreme Court Justice Horace Calvo, a man local officials characterized as dedicated to serving people — died Monday at 12:12 p.m. at Jewish Hospital in St. Louis following a battle with cancer.

Calvo, 64, a former Granite City attorney, had served on the Illinois Supreme Court since his election to a 10-year term in 1988.

He enjoyed a long career of public service in all three branches of government, including service as a special assistant Illinois attorney general for eight years, as a state representative seven years and as a judge 16 years.

Horace Calvo

Former law partner and friend Bill Mateyka said, "There are so many things you can say about him. I guess the best you can say about him is Horace Calvo was an uncomplicated man who achieved the ultimate as far as an attorney is concerned — a Supreme Court Justice.

"He served with humility and consideration of all who came before him and kept the basic rights of individuals foremost in his mind all his life," Mateyka said.

Born in Chicago in 1927, he served in Army Air Corps Intelligence from 1945-47 in Wiesbaden, Germany. He married his wife, Josephine, in June of 1947 and attended St. Louis University Law School.

Wolf may face challenge

By Mike Myers
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — An Edwardsville woman best known for her pro-life stance on abortion may challenge State Rep. Sam Wolf in the Democratic primary next spring.

Ellen Stimson, founder of the Metro East Coalition for Choice, an abortion rights group, said she will decide whether to run by the third week in June.

Wolf, who has represented the 11th District for nearly 14 years, has not had a primary opponent since real estate agent Leo Pelek ran against him in 1981. Wolf said he will seek re-election and, "if I have an opponent when the time comes, you can be sure I will take the opponent seriously."

Stimson said that, if she becomes a candidate, her campaign will not be based on the abortion issue.

"I certainly think reproductive choice is an important issue, obviously, but it is not the one major issue facing the 11th District," Stimson said. "I do not believe (Wolf) is representing the majority view on that issue."

Wolf, who accepts the support of anti-abortion groups, said, "That is a matter of opinion and everyone can make up their own mind about that."

Stimson said that, until she actually decides to become a candidate, she is not ready to talk about specific issues.

"But, as a parent with children attending public schools, education is obviously important to me," Stimson said.

Wolf said he believes his record on education speaks for itself. (See WOLF, Page 10A)

Police-brutality suit filed

Local man escaped after alleged beating

By Bob Slate
Staff writer

EDWARDSVILLE — A former Granite City man has filed an unlawful-arrest and police-brutality lawsuit against the city of Granite City and one of its police officers.

Lee Floyd Block, 33, formerly of the 3000 block of Willow Avenue, filed suit May 30 seeking $300,000 in punitive damages from Capt. Dave Ruebhausen relating to an incident alleged to have occurred May 31, 1990.

Authorities said Price escaped from custody after the incident and is still being sought.

The suit, filed by Belleville attorney Julie Keenher Katz of Rippling, Dixon and Johnston on behalf of Price, alleges Ruebhausen "detained (Price) without cause, reason or justification" and further "maliciously, savagely and viciously struck and beat (Price) causing severe and permanent injuries."

The suit also seeks in excess of $15,000 from the city and $15,000 from Ruebhausen in compensatory damages.

According to police reports, Price was arrested just before 7 p.m. May 31, 1990, and was charged with aggravated assault, resisting arrest, disorderly conduct and two counts of battery.

Ruebhausen was not the arresting officer, but said he did process Price at the police station.

Assistant Chief Ron Selph and Assistant City Attorney Sue Bacon said the city had not yet been served and thus could not comment.

Ruebhausen also said he had not yet been served with the suit, and could not comment on the case. He did say, however, that Price was arrested on several complaints May 30, 1990, including one signed by Price's wife.

"How can he say he was detained without cause?" Ruebhausen asked. "We have a copy of the (battery) complaint signed by his wife."

Ruebhausen denied having used excessive force to process Price, and said he would be surprised if the case went to court.

Reports of the incidents May 31, 1990, say two officers — Ruebhausen was not one of them — were dispatched to the Willow Avenue address of Price in reference to a disturbance.

Upon their arrival, Dina Price, the alleged victim, did not initially answer officers' questions while in the presence of her husband. (See SUIT, Page 2A)

New board member in Madison

MADISON — A day-care center operator has been named to the Madison Board of Education. Suzanne Skokko was named to replace Michael C. Foley, who resigned his board position at a special meeting May 25. He cited conflicts with his work schedule. Foley had been appointed to the board in November 1989.

Skokko, the mother of two boys — an 11-year-old who attends Madison Middle School and a five-year-old who will begin kindergarten in the fall. She also has two teen-aged stepchildren. Her husband, Steve, is a sergeant with the Madison Police Department.

"She is very excited and very interested in the school program and especially in the elementary-level programs," said Superintendent Dan Kostencki. "She will make a tremendous addition to the board."

Mrs. Skokko will be formally seated on the board at its regular meeting Thursday. The position she is filling will be up for election in November.

THE CIRCUS COMES TO TOWN: The annual Ainal Shrine circus parade moves down Madison Avenue near 23rd Street on Monday night, with Ainal's color guard leading the way. Final circus performances are set for 7:30 p.m. Wednesday and Thursday at Gateway International Raceway. See Thursday's Press-Record for more parade photos.

Patriotic blowout Saturday will honor nation's troops

By Martin Richter
Staff writer

The military will receive a giant tip of the hat this weekend as the area throws a huge parade and picnic in its honor.

The Metro East Desert Salute will kick off at 10 a.m. Saturday with a parade through downtown Belleville, followed by a massive picnic complete with food and entertainment at the Belle-Clair Fairgrounds, from 11:30 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Events will move to Scott Air Force Base in the evening for a patriotic "Scott Desert Salute." The base will open its gates to the public at 5 p.m. Military equipment will be on display until 7:30 p.m., when a patriotic ceremony featuring the Military Airfield Command Band and a fireworks display will get under way.

Sharon Owens of Desert Home Front, one of the event's sponsors, said she was amazed by the volunteer spirit it has generated.

"The whole vision of this Desert Salute, in my mind, is that for the very first time, the whole community is involved," Owens said. "We have Scott Air Force Base, we have Belleville government, we have county government, we have private individuals. Everyone involved is a volunteer. I can't believe this, because everyone has donated everything."

The parade will feature 21 marching bands and 10 patriotic community floats, including floats sponsored by communities like Belleville, Millstadt, Scott AFB and Fairview Heights.

A big part of the parade will be the 60 military units taking part. All five services — The Air Force, Army, Coast Guard, Marines and Navy — are being represented.

More than 1,000 people from Scott AFB plan to participate, Owens said, and the parade will include Air Force vehicles of the type used in Operation Desert Storm.

Owens stressed that area military men and women who are not marching with a unit are still urged to participate in the parade.

"If there are still people who do not know that they can march in the parade, or if anyone is home on leave, please contact me (at 234-0330 ext. 121), or show up the day of the parade and we'll find a place for you," she said.

The parade will proceed east on West Main Street from 17th Street to the coupler (Washington Street). It will then go left on Third Street, then right on Main, around the square, and down South Illinois Street to Washington Street, where it will turn left. It then will go right on High Street to the South Belt, where it will turn left and come to a halt at the Fairgrounds.

There has been road construction on High Street, Owens said, and if the street is not ready for the parade, the alternate route will stay on South Illinois Street all the way from the square to the South Belt. The decision will be made the day of the parade, she said.

Immediately after the parade, there will be a ceremony on the fairground's main stage, in front of the Exposition Hall.

The ceremony will be emceed by Bob Hardy of KMOX Radio, and featured speakers will include U.S. Senators Alan Dixon and Paul Simon, U.S. Rep. Jerry Costello, General Hansford T. Johnson, and Brig. Gen. Thomas Napolitano. The ceremony will be followed by a big balloon release sponsored by the Belleville Lions, and will kick off the picnic.

The picnic will include more than 40 food and drink booths, many of which will offer discounts to the military. There will be three stages — two outside and one inside. Featured on the stages will be four bands, and a variety of other entertainment.

"We'll have everything from dancers to barbershoppers — anybody who couldn't be in the parade," Owens said.

The day's events were planned by a committee including St. Clair County Board Chairman John Baricevic, Belleville Mayor Richard Brauer, Desert Home Front, Scott AFB, the Shriners and various businesses, clubs and organizations in the area. Use of the fairgrounds was donated by the Belle-Clair Fair Association.

County offenders pay debt with their own time

If you can't pay the fine, you'll do the time, one way or another. Madison County's Public Service Program recently topped the $1 million mark in community service performed by people who can't afford fines or who trade work hours for jail time.

"The judges are using it more and more," said Mark Hatscher, coordinator of the 10-year-old program. "We're averaging more than 5,000 hours a month."

Offenders convicted of felonies, misdemeanors, traffic and ordinance violations have logged more than 200,000 hours of work during the last 10 years.

Workers have helped clean, build and take care of city parks, schools and a variety of county facilities since the program's inception, Hatscher said. They've also assisted for a number of public works, police and sanitation departments.

"A lot of times people are doing jobs that would go undone," Hatscher pointed out.

The Public Service Program was established in 1982 by the Madison County Board.

"The judges like it as a sentencing alternative because a lot of times a person can't pay a fine. This gives them something to do," Hatscher said. "The person has to do something, and the community benefits from it."

Since the start of this year, 21,600 hours of work have been done, which translate into about $106,000. The labor, valued at $5 an hour, is considered both punishment for a crime and a community service by authorities. Offenders are referred to the Madison County Probation Department by city and county courts. Then, if the offenders qualify for the program, they are sent to one of about 50 sites.

Work areas must be run by governments, nonprofit agencies or taxing districts, Hatscher said. The people are usually placed at work sites suited to their skills, Hatscher said, and authorities keep a close eye on them.

"There are supervisors, and their hours are kept track of," Hatscher said, adding that both juveniles and adults trade sweat for money and time served.

Pontoon Beach agrees to rebate sale tax to car dealer

By Valerie Evenden
Staff writer

PONTOON BEACH — An agreement between Don Johnston, Chrysler-Plymouth-Dodge Agency and the Village Board of Trustees was reached Thursday night.

Trustees agreed to reimburse 50 percent of the sales taxes collected through the dealership to Don Johnston. The total amount may not exceed the purchase price of the land for the auto sales business.

The agreement also specifies a time limit of up to 15 years for the sales tax rebate, with the offer for the 50 percent reimbursement remaining open to the dealer for a six-month period.

Johnston is still negotiating for property along Illinois 111 on which to relocate his dealership. A five-acre parcel of land owned by David Thebeau, located south of Omni Bank, and property belonging to the Emert Wyss family, north of the new bank and closer to Interstate 270, are under consideration as possible sites for the new car agency.

A written agreement between the board and Johnston was not ready for signatures at Thursday's meeting. The session was a continuation of Tuesday night's recessed meeting.

Village Attorney Keith Jensen said he was under the impression that several details had yet to be reviewed before a formal agreement was ready to be ratified.

Jensen's impression was apparently accurate as Trustee Robert Douglas sought clarification on several points, including asking to see a copy of the franchise agreement and a letter from Chrysler Corp., stating the franchise was in good standing. Neither request should be a problem, Johnston said. He said the property agreement must be approved by Chrysler Motors before the franchise could be moved to Pontoon Beach from its present location on 19th Street at Grand Avenue in Granite City.

Johnston also said the agreement for a tax rebate was necessary prior to obtaining financing to construct the new dealership. Before he could seek a bank loan to buy the property and build the car agency's new headquarters, the board would have to authorize the agreement allowing him the sales tax reimbursement, Johnston said.

He is expecting to construct a building costing an estimated $455,000.

Douglas attempted to get a clause inserted into the agreement stating the contract would be null and void should Johnston sell the franchise. Under that plan, a new owner of the franchise would have to then be approved by the board to allow the tax reimbursement agreement to remain in effect.

Carl Hackney, village economic director, said this requirement would not be practical.

"I don't think you can do that. I don't think you can get a bank to go along with that requirement," Hackney said. "The agreement is needed as part of the collateral to purchase the land."

Whoever was operating the franchise should be eligible for the same tax break until the property was paid for, with the village getting 50 percent of the sales tax money, it was argued.

"We wouldn't have anything to do with the property, just the sales tax reimbursement," said Trustee Louis Whitsell. Fifty percent of something is better than 50 percent of nothing, he said.

"We are making this agreement with you, not with someone else," Douglas said to Johnston.

If such a stipulation was included in the agreement, "it would make me look elsewhere," Johnston cautioned.

"All we have to do is pledge 50 percent of the tax revenue back to Johnston until the price of the property is paid," Whitsell said.

Douglas also wanted an exact dollar amount included in the agreement. Hackney said neither the bank asked to loan the money nor Chrysler Corp. may go for that.

It was agreed the 50 percent sales tax abatement would apply only to the purchase cost of the land and not for improvements. Johnston said the agreement should extend for a minimum 10-year period.

"I'd like to have a time limit in it, so it doesn't go on for ever," Trustee Loren Madison said. "Fifteen years is fine with me."

Johnston said the amount of money paid for the property conceivably could be paid off in five years, but 10 to 15 years was a more realistic time frame.

"Can we review the purchase price of the land?" Whitsell asked.

"Yes," Johnston replied.

"We could have extended the TIF (Tax Increment Financing) District to allow him to build without rebating the sales taxes, but I don't think this board would have agreed to it," Whitsell commented.

A majority of the present board members looked upon Tax Increment Financing projects with disfavor.

Johnston said that he wanted to locate in Pontoon Beach and not along Illinois 3 near West Pontoon Road in Granite City, where two auto dealerships are now operating.

"I could have gone there, but I am out here in the village by choice," he said.

The board voted unanimously to authorize the sales tax agreement with Johnston to establish the auto dealership in the village.

A motion was made to empower Mayor Glen Wilson to sign the document after the legal agreement is drafted by Jensen.

Douglas objected, saying the board should be able to review the written document first.

"It's going to say everything we've said here tonight and the man (Johnston) wants to get going," Wilson said.

Douglas still demurred.

"Then vote against it," the mayor advised.

Douglas did, casting the sole negative vote on allowing Wilson to sign the document.

Don Johnston Chrysler-Plymouth-Dodge will be the first major car dealership to move into the village.

Chrysler Corp. has agreed to a Pontoon Beach location for the agency's new home, Johnston said.

A specific time frame for vacating the firm's present location on 19th Street has not yet been determined, Johnston said.

Generating plant is dedicated

FAIRMONT CITY—A dedication ceremony was held Friday for a $2.2 million facility that will use landfill gas to generate electricity.

Officials of Waste Management of North America, Inc., Midwest Region, held the ceremony at the site of the facility, which will be the first of its kind in the Metro East. The facility will use methane gas recovered from Milam Recycling and Disposal Facility as fuel to drive electricity-generating equipment.

The 206-acre complex is located at the intersection of Interstate 55 and Illinois Route 203 in Fairmont City. Construction of the new facility began in 1990. Landfill gas, a mixture of methane and carbon dioxide, is a natural byproduct of decomposing solid wastes. Methane accounts for about 55 percent of the gas.

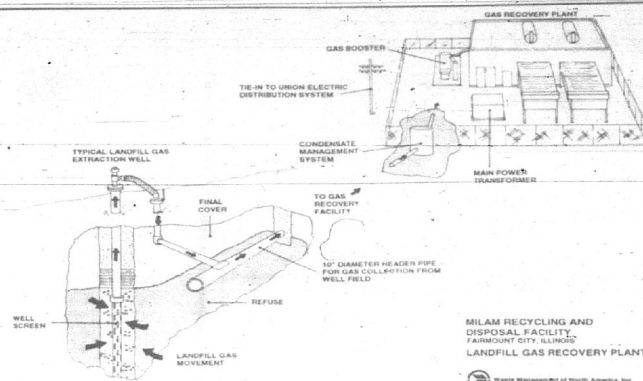

Metro East garbage has been disposed in the Milam Recycling and Disposal Facility since its opening in the late 1980s. Gas is expected to be drawn from the landfill for 20 years.

Gas recovery will be achieved through a network of 27 wells connected to a system of horizontal pipes leading to a central collection and processing point.

Shrine dedicates church

By Liz Quirin
Staff writer

BELLEVILLE — To find a piece of quiet, people from all walks of life and many corners of the world can find peace and quiet at the National Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows, 9500 West Illinois 15.

The Shrine, set on 200 acres, is owned and operated by the Missionary Oblates of Mary Immaculate, an order of Catholic priests.

One of the final pieces in the mosaic of peace created at the Shrine was completed recently when the Church of Our Lady of the Snows was dedicated last month with appropriate ruffles and flourishes and more than 2,000 invited guests.

"The church was built to complement the Shrine, not compete with other areas of worship," said Jo Kathmann, public relations director at the Shrine.

An outdoor amphitheatre hosts many regular yearly events, but sometimes the weather can be uncooperative, Kathmann said.

Having the church will open up more possibilities and enhance the existing space, Kathmann added.

The church, which seats from 600 to 900 people, was designed "as a gathering place for all God's people," Kathmann said.

It was also created to expand the vision of the Rev. Edwin J. Guild, an Oblate priest who promoted devotion to Our Lady of the Snows in the Midwest.

Artist J. Watson Davis painted a picture of another Oblate missionary, the Rev. Paul Schulte, ministering to the Eskimos in the Arctic. Davis added an image of Our Lady in the winter sky surrounded by the northern lights or aurora borealis.

That painting was hung at St. Henry's Seminary during the 1940s, where Guild lived and worked at the time.

Guild continued to hold special services promoting Our Lady of the Snows until the Oblate order purchased 80 acres of land in 1958 and began to build the Shrine. In the 1960s, the Oblates made a second purchase, increasing the 80 acres to its present 200 acres.

The outside of the church invites visitors to see the church through a Pilgrim's Gate, a trellised walkway that leads to the free-standing cross in front of the church.

Inside, visitors find a gathering space graced by a special stylized type of painting of Our Lady of the Snows.

Journals will join new private delivery network

The Suburban Journals and Alternate Postal Delivery (APD), the nation's largest private mail company, have announced a signed letter of intent to start a new private delivery system in St. Louis.

The private delivery system, scheduled to begin testing in the fall, will distribute the 32 magazine titles handled by the APD, including Better Homes & Gardens, Field & Stream, Good Housekeeping, Ladies' Home Journal, Life, McCall's, Mirabella, New Woman, People, Redbook, Seventeen, Time and Weight Watchers. The company also delivers 16 upscale catalogs, including J.C. Penney, Fingerhut, Sears, AT&T, Current, Day Timers, Horchow, J. Crew, Paragon and Quill.

Tom Rice, president of the Suburban Journals, said, "We are very excited about expanding our business operations in St. Louis with the distribution of magazines and catalogs. This delivery to specific addresses is a natural extension for us, given the quality and marketwide distribution system already in place for saturation delivery of the Journals."

Phil Miller, president of APD, said, "We plan to roll out the entire St. Louis market within two or three years and are very pleased to be working with the Journals, which have a proven track record in delivering to the entire market."

Private delivery is rapidly expanding in the United States as an alternative to the U.S. Postal Service, with its rapidly rising postal rates for all categories of mail.

House OKs Rep. Wolf's bill on pensions

SPRINGFIELD — Legislation its sponsors say could save more than $28 million over the next five years — by including part-time university and college employees in the state's retirement system — has been approved by the Illinois House.

State Rep. Sam Wolf, D-Granite City, the sponsor of House Bill 1620, said the bill would immediately achieve savings of $7.5 million.

"In a time when our state is in dire financial crisis, we need to look at programs that prevent us from spending taxpayer dollars unnecessarily," Wolf said. "The beauty of this bill is that it gives retirement coverage to the people who need it most, while at the same time it saves money."

Wolf said the Federal Reconciliation Act of 1990 requires all non-student employees not covered by a retirement plan to participate in Social Security by July 1, 1991.

The cost of Social Security is said to be about eight times the cost of allowing the part-time employees to participate in the State University Retirement System. The actual saving is dependent on the number of part-time employees who elect to participate in the SURS.

"Initial costs of implementing HB 1620 are about $1 million," Wolf said. "Without this legislation the state will be forced to pay $8.5 million, right off the bat."

The bill affects 35,000 university and college employees throughout Illinois by requiring their employers to make part-time employees eligible to participate in the SURS.

"This measure increases the number of active participants under the SURS by as much as 60 percent," Wolf said.

"This bill finally gives some of our lower-income families working at Illinois colleges and universities the opportunity for some financial security in the future."

"The bill also allows younger people, who dominate these jobs, to know they will have some type of retirement plan they can rely on."

HB 1620 now goes to the Senate for consideration.

County offers free rides to heat shelters

The Madison County Transit District will provide free requested rides to heat shelters this summer during periods of extreme temperatures.

"The free transportation is being offered to ensure the safety and comfort of county residents who have no other way to get to an air-conditioned shelter," according to MCT Chairman Nelson Hagnauer.

In addition to heading the transit board, Hagnauer is supervisor of Granite City Township and chairman of the Madison County Board.

"We've already experienced 90-degree-plus weather. When it gets that hot, it puts a lot of people at risk, particularly senior citizens," he said.

Hagnauer added that Madison County Transit has arranged for the Agency for Community Transport to operate the free transportation to heat shelters.

ACT operates specific local routes and door-to-door transportation services for Madison County Transit.

Area residents who require transportation to a heat shelter should call ACT at 931-RIDE. Trips will be arranged on an immediate demand-response basis.

Regular demand-response services for the elderly or disabled must be scheduled 24 hours in advance.

There are 29 heat shelters throughout Madison County that offer cool refuge from scorching summer weather.

"We urge everyone to take advantage of the heat shelters. It could save a life," Hagnauer said. More information on the free ride service can be obtained by calling ACT.

To obtain the location of the nearest heat shelter, residents may contact the Madison County Emergency Services and Disaster Office at 692-0537.

Federal probe of Germania may go to grand jury this summer

ALTON — FBI agents are preparing to turn over results of a probe of GermaniaBank to a federal grand jury for prosecution, according to sources.

"We are looking at a multitude of crimes in the failure of Germania," U.S. Attorney Frederick Hess of the Southern District of Illinois said.

A grand jury may hear testimony this summer from a task force of FBI agents, state securities officers and postal authorities, according to sources.

The Office of Thrift Supervision seized the insolvent $785 million institution on June 11, 1990. Germania's office in Alton and 12 other branches in Illinois and Missouri remain open. Branches include locations in Duplo, Belleville and O'Fallon.

FBI and other investigators are looking into Germania's losses, including $12.3 million in 1989, and the sale of $8 million in uninsured capital notes. The probe has focused on violations of federal laws.

More than 60 people have been questioned in the nine-month investigation, sources said.

The investigation is headed by Hess in the Southern District of Illinois and U.S. Attorney Bill Roberts in the Central District of Illinois. U.S. Attorney Stephen Higgins of the Eastern District of Missouri is leading the Germania probe in St. Louis.

FBI agents are interviewing customers who bought $8 million in subordinated capital notes at Illinois branches.

More than 800 people in Illinois and Missouri could lose $10 million in uninsured capital notes because of the failure of Germania, Barbara Bara of the Office of Thrift Supervision said.

Germania sold the notes to pump new operating capital into the ailing bank in 1987, Bara said.

Special Agent Dale Schuler of the Alton office of the FBI is interviewing Germania officials.

Agents with special training in accounting are examining records subpoenaed from Germania.

Other agents are checking irregularities found in an audit of Germania by the federal Resolution Trust Corp.

Federal securities investigators are looking at files of Germania's investments in junk bonds and commercial loans.

Attorney Rod Pitts of East Alton filed a class-action lawsuit in federal court to try to recover $10 million paid by note holders.

Pitts and St. Louis attorney Frank Duda are taking written statements under oath from Germania officials to prepare for trial of the lawsuit sometime in November, Pitts said.

Prosecutors met last week in Chicago with federal officials in a strategy session.

Costello views rain-damaged wheat crop here

By Angie Cairns
Staff writer

The plight of the winter wheat crops in Madison and St. Clair counties brought U.S. Rep. Jerry Costello to an Edwardsville farm on Monday.

The purpose of the visit was to "see firsthand the crop damage that has been done," Costello, D-Belleville, said.

Mike Campbell, the chairman on Costello's Agricultural Advisory Group, hosted the congressman. Campbell and other farmers were asking Costello to apply for federal assistance.

Although the damage appeared severe, Costello said he only plans to advise the Department of Agriculture of the problem.

Because a poor wheat yield here is not going to affect the national supply, Costello said, he does not plan on applying for federal assistance at this time.

"If this continues to happen... then the federal government would take a very hard look at it," Costello said.

The main problem for this year's crop is fungus, that grows in wet conditions. Diseases such as scab and septoria have attacked the area crops, destroying the kernels.

Because of heavy spring rains and humidity, the environment has been ripe for the fungus growth. "Each time the spore gets wet it opens up and spews out," said Eugene Pulcher, a farmer from the Duplo area.

The devastation has been made worse by last year's similar problem with the diseases, Campbell said.

He estimates he lost 50 percent of his wheat crop last year. This year's yield is not going to be much different, he said.

Thirty-eight percent of what Campbell grows is winter wheat. Although the chance of this type of damage occurring two years in a row is rare, Lynn Weiss from the Madison County extension service said it was just the timing of it all.

"It may not happen again in 100 years. It may happen next year. There's nothing they (the farmers) could have done," Weiss said. Most farmers use the revenue from their wheat crops to pay for the planting of other crops, such as corn.

"This (wheat loss) really hits a lot of them hard for cash flow," she said.

The fungus damage has left about $4 million worth of winter wheat destroyed, said Madison County agriculture adviser Ron Cornwell. Campbell estimates the loss to be even higher.

"I would guess at least $10 (million)," Campbell said.

After counting in the loss to the farmers, the grain elevator operators and those who haul the wheat, Costello puts the total economic damage as high as $100 million.

Like Campbell, Pulcher is prepared to see a 50 percent loss in his wheat yield.

Aside from the lower yield, test weights will also be below normal.

The average test weight for wheat is about 60 pounds per bushel, Pulcher said. According to the test weight from last year, Pulcher said, the disease-infected wheat could be down to 48 pounds per bushel.

The test weight, moisture level, garlic and dockage (foreign material) are all considered when determining what price is paid per bushel, said Allan Parker from the Lenzburg Farmers Co-op in New Athens.

Whenever a test weight falls below 58 pounds per bushel, cents are taken off, Parker said. The price per bushel will not be certain until farmers start bringing in their wheat, he said.

Dave Mueller, a farmer near Edwardsville, planted 700 acres of winter wheat last fall. On Monday he was destroying the 200 acres that were infected.

Mueller estimates that the other 500 acres will suffer a 50 percent monetary loss when he gets ready to sell the wheat.

To replace of the damaged wheat, Mueller is planting soybeans. If the wheat crop had been successful, the farmer would have been plowed under after the harvest and left idle until the fall re-planting.

Future bright for Lady Warriors

Waubonsie's quick start hurts in semi

By Dave Whaley
Staff writer

NAPERVILLE — Saturday's early start was a bit too early for the Lady Warriors.

Aurora (Waubonsie Valley) scored just three minutes into the 9 a.m. state semifinal and went on to a 2-0 win over Granite City, ending the Lady Warriors' hopes for a state championship. Granite City (20-4) went on to finish fourth in the state following a 2-1 loss to Schaumburg in the consolation game Saturday afternoon.

"It's part of being a young team," said Granite City coach Gene Baker. "We're not a good tournament team yet, but we will be."

Baker was coaching in his first girls state tournament. He has brought 13 boys teams to state and won nine state titles. But it took him three tries to win his first championship. The boys finished third in 1973 and 1975 before winning five straight state titles from 1976-80.

The Lady Warriors weren't without their chances against Waubonsie Valley, which finished second to Libertyville as the Wildcats won the title game 1-0. Granite City thought they might have had a goal late in the first half on a direct free kick by sophomore Beth Rapoff, who made the all-tournament team. Her high shot was too hot for goalie Fran Kobus to handle. It went off her hands and bounced up either off the crossbar or under it. Kobus was able to smother the rebound.

"The girls thought the ball was in," said Baker. "That obviously changes the game around if we go to halftime with a tie. But you can't squawk if you can't get on the board."

Waubonsie Valley (25-3-1) scored just 3:02 into the game as Andrea Daniela scored her eighth goal of the season and second of the tournament. Kristen Gutierrez shot hit the crossbar and deflected back to Daniela before goalie Stephanie Kuit could react.

"We warned them about the early goal," said Baker. "If we keep them off the board we'll win in penalty kicks because of our goaltending. But the girls can get so emotional and it's tough to keep everything under control early in a big game."

The clinching goal came just 56 seconds into the second half.

Sophomore Debbie Keller, who finished the season with 47 goals and 31 assists, unloaded a perfect shot from 30 yards out just inside the left post and under the bar. She almost came back with another four minutes later, but her header off a corner kick hit the post.

"A goal there would have really put it away," said Waubonsie Valley coach Julie Keller. Deb- (See SEMI, Page 5B)

2-1 loss to Schaumburg draws curtain on season

NAPERVILLE — It had been 16 years since Gene Baker had coached a third place game. But he hadn't forgotten how hard it was to get a team ready for one.

"You want to come back and play one more good game," he said. "But it's so hard to get a team in the right frame of mind after losing in the semifinal."

That was the case Saturday evening as the Lady Warriors lost 2-1 to Schaumburg and settled for fourth in the state. Granite City started mostly senior unit players in the first quarter and it proved costly. Schaumburg's Nancy Reyes hit a pop fly from 40 yards out that looped over goalie Leslie Stavelly just 38 seconds into the match.

"The first goal was a gift," said Baker. "These third place games are often lackluster and we might have outdone that. We just couldn't get out of the blues."

Actually, the Lady Warriors came on and might have scored two or three goals in the second quarter. Once they put their best lineup in Amanda Witter broke through from the kickoff, but Schaumburg goalie Julie Ciasno-

They had an even better chance two minutes later. Angela Blason was robbed by Ciasno-rebound came out to Addie Lenzi for what looked like a sure goal. Lenzi had plenty of time, but the shot took off and sailed far over the goal.

"Addie had a tough tournament," said Baker. "She has to play herself into a game and for some reason she just couldn't get motivated."

The Saxons (20-4-2) made it 2-0 at 31:40 on Shay Feilen's penalty kick. Beth Rapoff was whistled for a hand ball inside the penalty area and Feilen beat Stephanie Kuit to the right corner.

Kuit — who replaced Stavelly after the first quarter denied Schaumburg the rest of the game with a series of fine saves.

"Stephanie is the best goalie here," said Baker.

But the Lady Warriors could only solve Ciasnocha — who along with Downers Grove South keeper Jenayia Matiya received all-state honors — once. Witter scored her tournament-record fourth goal by taking a pass from Julie Goclan and splitting two defenders at 64:38. Granite City put some good pressure on in the final 15 minutes, but couldn't score again. They out-shot Schaumburg 11-7.

Witter earns two scoops of ice cream

By Dave Whaley
Staff writer

NAPERVILLE — Sure, the weekend could have worked out a little better for the Lady Warriors. But Amanda Witter laid a little foundation for 1992.

Granite City's junior forward broke two records at the girls state soccer tournament and was named to the all-tournament team.

Witter got the Lady Warriors off to a good start in the tournament Friday by scoring a hat trick in a 4-1 win over Downers Grove South. Witter added another goal in a 2-1 loss to Schaumburg in the third place game.

The three goals in one game is a new girls state record, as is the four goals for the tournament. Witter also assisted on Shawn Odom's sudden death goal May 28 to beat Springfield in the Granite City Sectional to get the Lady Warriors to state.

For all that, Witter has been named the East Side Publications Journal Athlete of the Week.

Witter was one of only three juniors on this year's team and figures to be one of the premier seniors in the area — and the state — next year. She and senior Addie Lenzi were all-state selections this season. Witter finished the year with 18 goals and five assists for 41 points. The goals and points are school records for girls.

For her career, Witter has scored 35 goals. She had eight last year and nine as a freshman. She wasted little time getting her high school career off on the right foot, scoring less than two minutes into the opening game of her freshman season — and she has barely let up since.

"Amanda is among the most talented offensive players I've coached," said Gene Baker. "She's very strong with the ball and is a solid two-footed player. And she is very takes the field."

Indeed, Witter plays the game with a bit of an attitude — one that should rub off next year when she will no doubt be a team captain as a senior. The experience at state this year should help ease the nervousness the team felt last weekend.

"We were living on Pepto-Bismol (Friday) morning," said Witter. "We just came in not wanting to lose the first game. When we took care of it with her hat trick — the second of her career. Her reward from her parents for three goals in a game ever since she was very young has been ice cream. Her fourth goal of the tournament might have earned her a double scoop."

(Each week one varsity athlete from Granite City, Madison, Venice, Cahokia, Duplo, East St. Louis or Lincoln high schools is selected by the Journal sports staff as the East Side Publications Journal Athlete of the Week. Selected athletes are eligible for consideration as the Journal Athlete of the Month.)

Underclassmen key factors in 4th-place finish

NAPERVILLE — It might be of little consolation to this year's seniors, but the future is exceedingly bright for the Lady Warrior soccer team.

Granite City's fourth-place finish at last weekend's state tournament could be only the beginning of even bigger things. Coach Gene Baker is dangerous even when he has loads of talent to replace. But the Lady Warriors, who finished at 20-4, will be loaded with experience in 1992 — and 1993, for that matter.

This year's state tournament roster featured only six sophomores among 22 players. Baker will need to replace two-time all-star Addie Lenzi, stopper Angela Blason and Jennifer Harper, but the components for a championship team are in place.

"There was much to be proud of this year," said Baker. "We added a quality coach in Virgil Kirksey, and if we continue to mature and play well against our competitive schedule, this team should be ready to handle things much better at a state tournament."

Lenzi, Blason, Harper, Tia Rees, Hollie Taylor and Angela Jones won't get to be a part of that, but at least they were able to make it to state once before graduation. They now leave the program in the hands of their younger teammates.

The pride and joy of this team was a sensational sophomore class of 11 players — most of whom were key performers this season. Defender Beth Rapoff was an all-state tournament selection.

"It seems like all the teams in Missouri and Illinois were just loaded with great sophomores this year," said Baker. "We certainly fit in there. It's going to be much harder for who saw varsity team next year. I tried to play all 22 players this year, and I did. But it's hard to have a close team like that since not all of them get the playing time they want. We'll probably go with fewer players next season."

Amanda Witter will be the senior leader in 1992 after scoring 18 goals this season. The other seniors to be who saw varsity time this year are backup goalie Leslie Stavelly and Ginger Henson. Brooke Bjorkman and Kami Kessel also performed well as freshmen (Kessel hasn't even turned 15 yet).

But the Lady Warriors will be a junior-dominated team in 1992. Baker thought Stephanie Kuit was the best goalie at the state tournament and pushed her unsuccessfully for all-state honors. The rest of the 1991 (See WHALEY, Page 5B) sophomore class includes Ann Logan, Tammy Dutko, Julie Goclan, Stephanie Hardesty, Rapoff, Michelle Knox, Shawn Odom, Anglia Parker, Suzanne Stuart and Staci Johnson. There's plenty of offense and defense in that group to go with Kull's goaltending. The Lady Warriors outscored the opposition 76-12 this year. Fifty-nine of the 76 goals were scored by underclassmen. Add to that a junior varsity which went 14-0-1, and the reasons for optimism are obvious.

"We equalled the best performance for any non-Chicago school in our first try," said Baker. "These girls should only get better."

They will get better. In fact, it says here the girls' state championship will come to Granite City in one of the next two years — possibly both.

"There would be days when we would beat this team by six," said Baker. "But we sometimes create a total lack of communication and go back to day one. We came on a little after the goal."

NOTES: Libertyville (23-1-1), which won the state championship with a 1-0 win over Waubesa Valley, had finished second in the state the last two years and lost in the quarterfinals in 1989 — the first year of the tournament. The Wildcats won all three games at state 1-0 and allowed only five goals all year.

That's a new state record, as is the 20 shutouts. Libertyville ended the year with an 18-game winning streak and a 23-game unbeaten streak. Senior defender Jori Seymour was named the tournament's most valuable player. She was an all-tournament selection each of the past two years as well. Senior Sarah Morrison provided the goal in the quarterfinals and the title game.

bie's mother. "It was a skill game and we took them out of their game. Granite City has a great coach and they play a controlled game. We just outplayed them."

"We didn't play our game," said Baker. "Usually we'll put six or seven good, short passes together two or three times each quarter. I doubt if we did that five times in the first two games here."

"We didn't have the emotional surge to come back this morning, and I'll take the blame for that. Our lack of size really shows when we have to play games back to back."

Baker was also a bit displeased with the officiating. "The guy who ran the middle (David Hockersmith of Zion) runs the game with a certain amount of rudeness that the girls don't appreciate," he said. "Waubesa Valley had 12 players on the field at the end of the first half. We pointed that out and they basically said there were only a few seconds left in the half. Well, you can be scored on in that time."

Home and garden

From The Garden

New center at The Garden teaches home gardening

By Steven Cline

Gardening is one of America's leading pastimes, according to recent surveys.

As much as 80 percent of the population enjoys some form of gardening. People do it to improve their environment, get some physical exercise and gain a sense of accomplishment as they see their efforts grow into monuments of beauty.

It's a trend of good mental, as well as physical, health. Gardening is one thing we control from beginning to end in this complex world. True, you don't need to be a rocket scientist to grow a tree, but the more successful gardeners understand there is some science to growing plants and the better equipped you are to do it, the more fun it can be.

On June 9 the Missouri Botanical Garden will open the doors of the new Center for Home Gardening, giving Midwest gardeners a great new way to equip themselves to grow plants. The center is a product of the garden's dedication to promoting the joys and rewards of home gardening through practical teaching about the care and use of plants. Some 20 years in the planning, the center is the only facility of its kind in the nation.

The Kemper Center pavilion, a 10,000-square-foot building designed to emulate a large but typical residential home, was designed by Louis Saur, and Associates in Clayton. It is scheduled to open June 9.

On the main level you will find a tool and seed catalog/garden planning area, a gardening book reference area and exhibits on indoor gardening and rotating gardening topics. Throughout June, roses will be highlighted. Exhibit panels and written information on care, selection and maintenance will be on display. Every month a new topic will be presented.

On the middle level of this split-level building, there is a large gardening calendar, a residential greenhouse, two more monthly exhibit areas with rotating displays, a plant doctor area to get your plant problems diagnosed and a potting demonstration area to show visitors how to grow plants.

Above the plant doctor is an audio/visual presentation area with three projection screens showing gardening tips, what's in bloom at the garden and a weather station to let gardening to seasonal changes and the Midwest climate.

On the lower level is a lecture room combined with a demonstration kitchen—a good place for showing gardening tapes and to hear gardening lectures, including cooking demonstrations.

The second phase of development at the center will feature installation of some 20 residential-scale gardens in the remaining 6.5 acres of the 8.5-acre site. These gardens will be developed over the next several years and provide a spectacular display of plants which can be used in any Midwest home garden.

The Center for Home Gardening is planned to be more than a horticultural exhibit. You will be able to bring your garden soils in for testing, learn gardening tips from Master Gardeners, and pick up written information on all aspects of horticulture.

Additionally, Master Gardeners will set the stage for Saturday demonstrations where you can hear a live presentation and ask questions of the experts.

The center is a joint interest by the Botanical Garden and University Extension, University of Missouri-Columbia and Lincoln University. By consolidating our resources, we hope to find an even better way to serve the gardening community of the state. Don't miss the fun. Join us on June 9 at the Kemper Center for Home Gardening.

Dr. Steven Cline is manager of the Center for Home Gardening at the Missouri Botanical Garden.

Common sense conserves energy and water at home

In today's emphasis on conservation, there are many ways to reduce our energy and water consumption and still get good results.

According to appliance experts at Whirlpool Corp., dishwashers, clothes washers and garbage disposals all need a certain amount of water to work effectively. But we can all help in the global effort to save water by making sure these appliances don't use too much.

Dishwashers.
• If you have a dishwasher, use it. Washing dishes by hand actually takes more water than using a dishwasher.

• Avoid pre-rinsing dishes. A recent survey commissioned by the Association of Appliance Manufacturers (AAM) showed that 83 percent of consumers still rinse everything,

But Whirlpool appliance experts say pre-rinsing isn't necessary with today's efficient dishwashers, and should be reserved only for cooked-on foods.

• Use the shortest wash/rinse cycle. If dishes are lightly soiled, don't waste water by using heavy or normal cycles.

• Load dishes carefully. To get the best cleaning results (and avoid re-washing), be sure the dishes aren't blocking the detergent dispenser or spray arms. Check to see that heavily soiled skillets and utensils are positioned face-down to get the full force of the spray arms.

• Wash only full loads. Accumulate a full load of dishes from breakfast, lunch, dinner and snacks for a single wash at the end of the day.

SCOOP UP

Homemade or from the store, ice cream fits summer season

By Janice Denham
Staff writer

For the scoop on what to serve this month, try ice cream. June as Dairy Month is the first of a double dip because July follows as Ice Cream Month.

According to the newly published "Ice Creams and Sorbet," part of the Bantam Library of Culinary Arts, Italians began artificial freezing in the early 17th century. They scalded cream and sweetened and flavored it with pureed fruit or jam. They put it in tin ice pots immersed in buckets lined with straw and filled with ice, salt and saltpeter.

The science of refrigeration has simplified the job for modern generations. Now variety and drama compete for perfection in ice cream cones, sundaes, shakes, concretes and ices of all flavors and colors. In the summer, neighborhoods probably run faster to the tune of the ice cream vendor than a storm siren. The best way to make ice cream is in a maker that churns and freezes at the same time. Ice crystals need to be broken up once or twice during the process so the mixture becomes creamy. Tabletop models simplify the task by offering small quantities quickly. Homemade ice cream is best eaten right away or within a few hours of churning. If it must be frozen in a home freezer, let it soften in the refrigerator 10 to 30 minutes before eating; it regains some creamy texture.

Churning ice cream is a rite of summer, but buying it already made is no task for a weak-willed decision maker, because the freezer seems to hold 70 million flavors. This weekend ice cream reigns at Union Station for the sixth annual Scoops of Fun, which benefits Cardinal Glennon Children's Hospital, under the sponsorship of Midland United Dairy Industry Association.

However, there is never a time when ice cream does not hold court on party tables, whether it is turned into cones with kitty cat whiskers, a carousel cake bearing tamed animals on its side or ice cream sandwiches decorated with candy balloons.

Kitty kat cones

Vanilla ice cream
Toasted coconut
Raisins
Thin pretzel sticks
Candy corn
Colored ice cream cones

Dip 1 small and 1 medium scoop vanilla ice cream for each cone. Roll each one in coconut. Build cat on foil-covered cardboard. Place small scoop on top of large one. Form cat's face on small scoop, using raisins for eyes and nose, pretzels for whiskers and candy corn for ears. Freeze several hours or overnight.

When ready to serve, place ice cream cat on ice cream cone. Serve immediately.

Carousel cake

1 pkg. (9 oz. or 1 layer) dark fudge cake mix
Chocolate Animals
1 qt. peppermint ice cream, softened
1 pt. chocolate ice cream, softened
1 1/2 cups whipping cream
2 tbsp. sugar
Red food coloring
Candy canes or peppermint sticks

Prepare cake according to package directions. Bake in one 9-inch round pan.

Prepare Chocolate Animals. Line bottom and side of second 9-inch round pan with aluminum foil. Pack peppermint ice cream in even layer. Freeze. Spread chocolate ice cream over peppermint ice cream. Freeze.

When ready to assemble cake, whip whipping cream, sugar and food coloring until stiff. Place cake layer on serving plate. Remove ice cream from pan, then remove foil. Place on top of cake, chocolate-side up. Working quickly, frost entire cake with whipped cream. Arrange Chocolate Animals around side and top of cake. Place candy canes with handles toward center on top of cake. Serve immediately.

Makes 10 to 12 servings.
Chocolate Animals: Melt 9 ounces chocolate over hot water or very low heat. Spread 1/8-inch thick on waxed paper. Chill. Before chocolate hardens completely, cut animals with cookie cutters. Chill to harden completely. Remove excess chocolate with sharp knife. Refrigerate animals until ready to use. This should make at least 12 animals.

Balloon cut-ups

1/2 cup milk
2 tbsp. butter
2 eggs
1 cup granulated sugar
1 tsp. vanilla
1 1/4 cups sifted cake flour
1/2 tsp. baking powder
1/2 tsp. salt

Frosting

1 1/2 cups confectioner's sugar
1 tbsp. butter
1/2 to 2 tbsp. milk
2 pt. chocolate ice cream
Round pastel mints
Red licorice strings

For cake, line 15-by-11-inch jellyroll pan with waxed paper.

Beat 1/2 cup milk in 1-quart saucepan. Add 2 tablespoons butter, stirring to melt as much as possible. Cool.

Beat eggs in small mixing bowl until very thick and lemon-colored. Gradually add granulated sugar. Continue beating until smooth. Add vanilla. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Gradually add to egg mixture, mixing only until blended. Quickly stir in milk mixture, mixing only until batter is smooth.

Spread evenly in pan. Bake 15 to 20 minutes at 350°. Loosen around edges. Turn onto wire rack. Gently remove paper. Cool.

Cut cake in 20 pieces, each about 3-by-2 1/4-inches.

For frosting, beat together confectioner's sugar, 1 tablespoon butter and enough milk until mixture is of spreading consistency. Frost 10 cake pieces. To assemble sandwiches, cut each piece of ice cream in 5 slices. Place ice cream on 10 plain cake pieces. Top with frosted cake pieces. Place in freezer until frosting is firm. Wrap and return to freezer.

Just before serving, decorate tops of sandwiches with pastel mints for balloons and licorice for strings.

Annual benefit is samplers' paradise

Milk-carton races, ice cream dipping contests and a whole lot more all else is ice cream tasting will be on the Scoops of Fun agenda Saturday and Sunday (June 8 and 9) at Union Station. For the sixth year in a row, thousands of people will come to get their licks at the all-you-can-jeat ice cream fete that benefits Cardinal Glennon Children's Hospital. Midland United Dairy Industry Association sponsors the event.

Lisa Scott, promotions specialist at the hospital, says about 15 vendors will provide samples of scoops and novelties that include Ninja Turtle specialties, made with hard-shelled cookie topped with ice cream. It also offers new products, like Buck's ice cream, made by the University of Missouri at Columbia. The sampling comes with a donation of $3 per person, while the entertainment in and around Union Station is free. Last year almost $68,000 was raised for the hospital. That was accompanied by almost 50,000 people, 2,800 gallons of ice cream and 55,000 frozen ice cream novelties.

On Saturday, it will look like a mad dash for the last Klondike bar as runners literally kick off the event at 10th and Market streets with a five-kilometer race at 8 a.m. and a one-mile race at 8:30 a.m. Registration of $9 — which includes a bracelet for ice cream sampling later — still can be made by filling out the form available at KSHE Radio, 700 St. Louis Union Station Annex. Registration for $12 can be made the morning of the race.

Paddleboat heats for one- and two-man crews will be held Saturday as well. A prize of a weekend vacation on a houseboat at Lake of the Ozarks will be given for the most creative boat made with milk cartons and jugs. This is the opportunity of a lifetime for anyone who secretly ever wished to paddle across the lake at Union Station. Guidelines and specifications are available from KSHE.

To spur the imagination, it helps to know that about 50 empty milk cartons will support one person. One-man boats may be entered for $3, two-man dinghies for $6, which includes a sampling bracelet for two. Duct tape captain.

Ice cream dipping contests will be held at 3:30 p.m. Saturday and 2 p.m. Sunday. Strolling entertainment, Flintstone character clowns, face painters and a mini petting farm will be available throughout both days for all ages to enjoy.

Country breakfast

It provides for relaxation and leisurely eating

A country-style breakfast is not reserved for those who go to the country. The hearty aroma of fresh bread baking, sausage sizzling and coffee brewing brings the country into any home.

Good bread is the cornerstone of a country breakfast. Do not shy away from them because they seem difficult or time-consuming. They actually require few ingredients and tools, no special baking pans and minimal preparation.

Biscuits' popularity has spread from the South to all parts of the country. Flaky and buttery, they are the darlings of breakfast tables everywhere. Scones, stars of afternoon tea, are biscuits' British cousin that fit perfectly on American tables. Usually heartier than biscuits, scones often include spices, fruits and nuts. Serve with individualized butters for delicious complements.

Gingerbread scones

2 cups flour
2 tbsp. sugar
2 tsp. baking powder
1 tsp. cinnamon
1 tsp. ginger
1/2 tsp. baking soda
1/2 tsp. nutmeg
1/2 cup (1 stick) butter
1/2 cup buttermilk
1/2 cup light molasses

Additional sugar
In medium mixing bowl, combine flour, 2 tablespoons sugar, baking powder, cinnamon, ginger, baking soda and nutmeg. Cut in butter until mixture resembles fine crumbs. Stir in buttermilk and molasses until soft dough is formed.

Gather together dough. Gently knead on lightly floured surface 10 to 12 times.

Pat dough in ungreased 9-inch round cake pan. Score top in 12 triangles, being careful not to cut

Hint of islands in savory chicken 'n rice

With the wave of island cuisines sweeping the nation, Americans are discovering the goodness of green-tipped bananas, a main ingredient cooks in many tropical regions have enjoyed for generations.

When bananas are green-tipped, they are firm, not-too-sweet and excellent for sauteing and serving with chicken. They marry well to spicy seasonings and robust sauces and are also low in calories.

Banana Chicken Barbados combines sweet and savory flavors, such as vanilla yogurt, which is simmered with pan juices, cinnamon, cumin, garlic and cilantro to make a creamy-light sauce. Serve this quick-cooking entree with hot cooked rice. It is a year-round dish that is fruity-fresh in warm weather and filling when the temperature drops.

Banana chicken Barbados

1 green-tipped, large banana, peeled
1 tsp. ground coriander
1 tsp. cumin
1/2 tsp. cinnamon
1 lb. boned, skinned, chicken breast
1 clove garlic, pressed
Salt and pepper, if desired
2 tsp. flour
2 tsp. oil
1/2 cup water
1/2 cup vanilla yogurt (without cornstarch)
1 tsp. cornstarch
2 tbsp. minced fresh cilantro

Cast for microwave cooking when fishing for fine meals

By Kathy Hanewinkel
Home economist

As Americans eat in healthier ways, they eat more seafood. As they eat more fish, more and fresher varieties become available. Fish is an excellent source of protein and has little waste. Plus, it is both delicious and easy to microwave.

There are more than 1,300 varieties of saltwater and freshwater fish. When writing recipes for fish, one problem is that not all varieties of seafood are available throughout the country and some fish have different names in different regions.

When microwaving, most fish can be substituted for other fish of similar size and thickness. The fat content is also less important when microwaving than cooking conventionally. When cooking thick or fatty fish, lower the power level to 70 percent for better penetration.

Some seafood is best when purchased alive and on ice. Fresh clams, mussels and lobsters are flown into the St. Louis area. Fish and seafood tend to be very perishable and are best if cooked within two days of purchase. If frozen, keep at 0°F or below. Once thawed, do not refreeze. Whether thawed or fresh, store in the coldest part of a refrigerator.

still feel springy when pressed. Above all, it should not smell fishy.

Microwave seafood only until it is no longer translucent. Some seafood—such as shrimp, lobster and salmon—has a pink shading and keeps that when cooked.

Fish should flake with a fork. Overcooking causes it to dry out. Shield parts that stick out or up by covering the protrusion with a small piece of aluminum foil. Seafood microwaves quickly because it cooks as it heats. It is done when it is thoroughly hot and changes consistency. The same microwave timing can be used for cooking and reheating.

Most seafood recipes convert to microwave use quickly and easily. They usually taste even better.

Fish odor that remains in a microwave can be removed by microwaving half a lemon in a bowl 2 minutes on high power. Another method is to place baking soda in a small amount of water and microwave until the mixture boils.

This recipe for shrimp soup, perfect for warm weather, is one of many excellent seafood recipes from "Microwaving Poultry and Seafood" from the Microwave Cooking Library.

Versatile apricots ring up summer snack

Fresh apricots make summer entertaining as enjoyable as the season itself. Considered more a delicacy than an everyday commodity in this part of the country, they add blushing appeal to any dish that calls for fresh fruit.

Snackers in search of guilt-free nibbling look to dried apricots. Virtually fat-free, 10 to 15 apricot halves (2 ounces) add up to only 130 calories, fewer calories than most dried fruit. For recipes featuring apricots, send a self-addressed, stamped, business-size envelope to: California Apricot Advisory Board, Department H-C, 1280 Boulevard Way, Walnut Creek, Calif. 94590. Request recipes for apricots in dried or fresh form.

Cocoa strawberry pie

- 1/2 cup peanut butter
 - 1/4 cup corn syrup
 - 2 cups crisp chocolate-flavored rice cereal (such as Cocoa Krispies)
 - 1 qt. strawberry frozen yogurt or ice cream, softened
 - Chocolate syrup, if desired
 - Sliced strawberries
- Stir together peanut butter and corn syrup in medium mixing bowl. Add cereal, stirring until well coated. Press evenly in 9-inch pie pan. Chill about 15 minutes. Spoon frozen yogurt into crust. Freeze about 3 hours until firm. Remove from freezer 10 minutes before serving. Drizzle chocolate syrup on top. Garnish with sliced strawberries. Yields 8 servings.

Swordfish steaks with dill-mustard sauce

- 1/2 cup Italian salad dressing
 - 2 swordfish, shark or other steaks (about 1 lb. each, 1 inch thick)
 - 1/2 cup dry white wine
 - 1 tsp. Dijon mustard
 - 1 tbsp. snipped fresh or 1 tsp. dried dill
 - Pinch pepper
 - 1/2 cup whipping or heavy cream
- In large skillet, cook fish over medium heat in Italian dressing, turning once, 8 minutes or until fish flakes. Remove to serving platter. Keep warm. To skillet, add wine, then mustard, dill and pepper. Bring to boil. Simmer, stirring occasionally, 8 minutes. Stir in cream. Heat 1 minute or until thickened. Serve sauce over fish. Garnish, if desired, with baby vegetables. Makes about 2 servings.

Steak and mushroom kabobs

- 1 beef sirloin steak (about 2 lb.), cut 1 1/2 inches thick
 - 1 lb. fresh mushrooms
 - 1/2 cup butter or margarine, melted
 - 1 tsp. dill weed
 - 1/2 tsp. seasoning salt
 - 4 cherry tomatoes
- Combine butter, dill and salt. Cut steak in sixteen (1 1/2-inch) cubes. Alternately thread 4 steak cubes and 3 mushrooms on each of four metal 12-inch skewers. Broil kabobs over low to medium coals 15 to 20 minutes, depending on doneness desired (rare or medium) turning and brushing occasionally with seasoned butter. Place cherry tomato on end of each skewer during last 2 minutes of cooking. Makes 4 servings.

Note: Kabobs may be cooked in covered cooker. Reduce cooking time 5 minutes.

Grilled rainbow trout with fruit salsa

- 1 cup diced fresh or canned apricots
 - 1/2 cup diced fresh or canned pineapple
 - 1 small avocado, diced (1/2 cup)
 - 1/4 cup diced red bell pepper
 - 3 tbsp. lime juice
 - 1 tsp. finely chopped cilantro
 - 4 rainbow trout fillets (6 oz. each), butterflied
- Coarsely ground black pepper, to taste

- Makes 4 servings; 353 calories, 36 g protein, 19 g fat, 12 g carbohydrate, 66 mg sodium and 129 mg cholesterol each.

Shrimp spread

Shrimp spread is particularly delicious served on whole wheat crackers. Combine 1 package (8 ounces) cream cheese, softened, and 1/2 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing, mixing until well blended. Stir in 1 can (4 1/4 ounces) cocktail shrimp, drained and rinsed; 1/2 cup finely chopped onion, and pinch garlic salt. Cover. Chill. Makes 2 cups.

Best barbecue in town comes comes from grill in back yard

The smoky aroma of food being cooked on the grill makes the mouth water and drives taste buds wild, especially if it is someone else's grill offering the delicious aroma.

Grilled food in the '50s was greasy, high in calories, cholesterol and saturated fat. Today lighter fare is on the barbecue menu, so it can be enjoyed without a guilt trip.

Turkey on the grill is one way to enjoy that summertime taste while still keeping a check on good health. It is particularly adaptable, coming in products like whole turkey, drumsticks and thighs, tenderloins, breast halves, wings, ground turkey and sausage.

Because it is naturally mild in flavor, it blends with an unlimited number of ingredients. Start with Basic Barbecue Sauce to enjoy traditional grilled flavor or use the base with a zesty variation. A batch can be mixed in minutes to enjoy immediately or prepared ahead of time and kept refrigerated for spur-of-the-moment grilling.

To receive more recipe ideas for turkey on the grill, send a stamped, self-addressed, business-size envelope to: Grill Thrills, Department of Consumer Affairs, National Turkey Federation, 11319 Sunset Hills Road, Reston, Va. 22090.

Select a cooking time to match the turkey product selected. Cooking time depends on the size and thickness of the turkey part.

Cleaning up eating style leads to reversing unhealthy heart

By Patricia Abels
Registered Dietitian
American Heart Association
St. Louis Chapter

For years, researchers assumed that blockage in the arteries of the heart could be halted at best, but certainly never reversed. However, according to several recent studies, lowering blood cholesterol levels and choosing a healthful lifestyle actually can reverse blockages in the heart's blood vessels.

One such study, conducted by Dr. Dean Ornish of the University of California at San Francisco School of Medicine, showed that diet, exercise and stress management could bring about regression, or reversal, of atherosclerosis (hardening of the arteries).

In Ornish's lifestyle heart trial, a group of participants with documented heart disease received special instructions: Follow a very low-fat vegetarian eating plan, exercise regularly and learn how to deal with stress. Participants received no medication or surgery.

Participants walked 30 minutes a day at a moderate pace. They also practiced stretching, meditation and other relaxation techniques for one hour per day.

The results of the year-long study were intriguing. Computer-analyzed arteriogram pictures of the heart's blood vessels showed reversal of the blockages in 82 percent of participants. Indeed, those who most faithfully followed the program, regardless of their age or the extent of blockage, showed the greatest change.

Other studies suggest that such drastic changes are not necessary to produce beneficial effects on the arteries. Nonetheless, all these studies support the findings that lowering cholesterol and changing lifestyle can lead to regression of blockages. Here is a low-fat, no-cholesterol, high-fiber vegetable dish that is flavorful enough for the most elegant meal, while easy enough for everyday cooking.

Herbed baby vegetable saute

- Nonstick cooking spray
- 1½ tsp. olive oil
- 2 cloves garlic, crushed
- ½ tsp. thyme leaves
- ½ tsp. rosemary leaves, crushed
- Pinch salt
- 1 lb. baby eggplant, halved
- 1 lb. baby zucchini, halved
- 2 tsp. chopped fresh parsley

Coat large nonstick skillet with cooking spray. Heat oil in pan over medium-high heat until hot. Sauté garlic, thyme, rosemary and salt 1 minute. Add eggplant, zucchini and parsley. Sauté 5 minutes or until tender-crisp, stirring occasionally. Yields 8 servings.

Granite City High School has 46 honor graduates

Forty-six of Granite City High School's 1991 graduating seniors have also graduated from the school's Secondary Honors Program for Academically Talented Students.

The program, which begins during the student's freshman year, offers accelerated courses in five disciplines: English, Foreign Language, Mathematics, Science and Social Studies. Each student must complete the requirements in four of the five disciplines.

To remain in the honors program, students must make a C or better in each course and must have a cumulative grade point average of at least a 3.0 (scale) after the freshman year, 4.2 after the sophomore year, 4.4 after the junior year and 4.5 in order to graduate.

Of the 46 graduating honors students, twenty-six have been designated Illinois State Scholars based on their class rank and scores on the ACT test. Five of the students, John Carlson, Craig Leavell, Kristi Reed, Sharon Stegall and Tim Whine, were named National Merit Commended Students based on their PSAT scores.

On the ACT test, the honors students had an average score of 26, compared to the national average of 18. Kristi Reed and Susan Stegall ranked in the top 0.1 percent nationwide with ACT scores of 33. Tim White ranked in the top 0.3 percent with a 32 score, Craig Leavell ranked in the top 0.5 percent with a 31 score and Brian Henry and Michelle Randall each had scores of 30, placing them in the top 1 percent nationwide.

Of the honors students, 13 plan to major in some type of engineering, eight in education, six in some type of science, three in business, three in journalism and two in occupations related to the health field. Thirteen of the students plan to attend Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, eight plan to attend the University of Illinois, three plan to attend St. Louis University, three plan to attend Eastern Illinois University and the remainder will attend other colleges or have not yet decided on a college.

The sponsors of the honors program, Harold Gebhardt, chairman of the Science Department, and Cynthia Hornell, chairman of the English Department, prepared the following profiles of the students.

Amy Bohnenstiehl

Amy is an Illinois State Scholar and a member of the National Honor Society. Although Amy belonged to the Science Club for two years and tutored her senior year, most of her extra time was devoted to sports: softball and volleyball for four years. She made the all-conference second team in volleyball. Amy plans to attend Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, where she will major in chemistry.

Sarah Bone

Sarah has participated in the marching band for three years as a member of the flag/rifle squad. She lettered all three years and served as captain of the flag squad her senior year. For the past two years, Sarah has supplemented her income as a tutor. She plans to major in counseling or education at Teikyo Westmar or Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Diana Brandt

Diane is an Illinois State Scholar and member of the National Honor Society. Extremely active in sports throughout the year, Diane has been a member of the volleyball team, basketball team, and the track team for three years. She belonged to the Science Club for two years and Alpha leader for one. In addition, she tutored her senior year. Diana plans to attend Illinois College in Jacksonville to major in mathematics or pre-med.

John Carlson

John is a National Merit Commended Student and a member of the National Honor Society. John has been a member of the Math Team for four years, the president of the Audio Visual Club, the debate team one year, JV wrestling one year, and worked in the guidance office as a peer tutor. This year he is the news editor of the High World, the school newspaper.

In addition, he is an Alpha Peer leader who goes to freshmen health classes and talk with them about issues from a student's point of view. John attended the National Leadership Foundation in Michigan this past summer, as a result of receiving the "I Dare You" Award. Next fall, John plans to attend St. Louis University to major in engineering.

Michael Clark

Mike is an Illinois State Scholar and a member of the National Honor Society. For three years, Mike was very active in the concert band, the pep band, and band lettermen. For two years, Mike played in the marching band and for one year in the jazz band. In addition, he has been a member of Tri-M, the music honorary association, the Science Club, and this year he worked as an aide in the main office. Mike plans to attend the University of Illinois at Champaign-Urbana majoring in electrical engineering.

Mason Connolly

Area delegates are chosen for 1991 Illini Girls State

By Valerie Evenden
Staff writer

Four delegates from the Quad-City Area will attend the 1991 American Legion Auxiliary Illini Girls State at Eastern Illinois University in Charleston.

Chosen to represent Granite City American Legion Auxiliary Unit 113 are Shelly Wilbur, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Wilbur, and Jennifer Ruder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Ruder.

Selected as representatives of Venice-Madison American Legion Auxiliary Unit 307 are Priscilla Anne Brooks from Madison High School; daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Brooks; and Nicole Selice Holloway from Venice High School, daughter of Ora Holloway.

Girls State is scheduled to be held on the EIU campus from June 16 to June 22. It is a mythical state designed to portray actual governmental departments and offices in the State of Illinois.

There will be 580 girls attending the session. The delegates will study city, county and state governments, including legislative procedures and responsibilities.

The two-party system of government will be used, with the Girls State divided into the Federalist and Nationalist political parties.

Many delegates choose to become political candidates and seek a variety of public offices. Elections are then conducted.

Obtaining petitions and campaigning for office, plus procedures for staging political conventions by the two parties, are part of the learning experience.

Dorothy Hinson, a member of Venice-Madison Unit 307 and a past president of the Illinois American Legion Auxiliary, will be the director of the Illini Girls State program again this year.

A 15-member committee representing Legion auxiliaries throughout Illinois prepares and plans the annual event, working from July of one year through June of the following year.

The program is designed to encourage and enhance good citizenship, leadership and the study of governmental issues for girls completing their junior year of high school, Hinson said.

King's Kids Crusade planned

Glenview Chapel, 3000 Maryville Road, will have "The King's Kids Crusade" starting Sunday, June 9, at 6 p.m. and Monday, June 10, and Tuesday, June 11, at 7 p.m.

Hap and Sandy Schrober will conduct the "Crusade." They have designed the program for parents as well as all children and teens. Every child is welcome. The couple has conducted many Crusades across Illinois. Live puppet plays, skits, songs and games will be presented. Prizes will be awarded to those bringing the most people. The children participating will meet "Obadiah, Happy Dog and all The Gang at the Club House," the Schrobers said.

Students track criminals

Where in the USA is Carmen San Diego? Students at Lake School recently found out when a tournament was held to determine the best sleuths.

Carmen USA is a popular computer program where students must track an elusive suspect from Carmen San Diego's Gang. The crooks steal an item and the junior detectives must follow the suspect from city to city using clues they find along the way.

Students learn to use all types of reference materials such as Fodor's USA, Almanacs, maps, encyclopedias, and a dictionary. Thorough note taking is to be essential if the crook is to be tracked to the correct city and a warrant obtained for his arrest.

Fourth, fifth and sixth grade Learning Center students of Casey Krakowicki were invited to participate and 26 teams qualified for the tournament.

Eventually five teams survived into the final round. Winners were determined by how many cases they could solve in the allotted time, with the tie breaker being how quickly each case was solved.

The winners, with six cases solved were fifth graders Dennetta Boyd and Matt Milton. Runners-up were fifth graders Dan Dothage and Brad Arnold, who also solved six cases, but lost on the tie breaker points.

Prizes included Carmen t-shirts, posters, stickers, and McDonald's gift certificates.

Students honor retiring principal

Maxine Duniphan covers the Mitchell area for the Press-Record Journal. She can be contacted at 931-2714.

Arthur Mendez, principal of Maryville School, was the proud recipient of a trophy presented to him May 16 by the gifted students of the Idea Lab, in honor of his impending retirement and to recognize his service as a judge at a mock jury trial put on by their class.

The trophy held the inscription "To the greatest principal on earth. Those words were not used loosely."

As the students were deciding the wording of their inscription, they were gently cautioned by their teacher, Mary Lou Schwab, that they be careful to choose the words to say exactly what they wanted them to say.

The trophy means a great

deal to him," said Christy Hoff, Special Education and resources teacher, because it was a gift from the children.

Jeri Schieb of Mueller Drive was the hostess for Hills Terrace Birthday Club's May 14 meeting. She used a May Day theme and presented each guest with a May Day basket which she had made in ceramics.

The ladies enjoyed a lovely brunch followed by lively round of bingo games. Present besides the hostess were Wanda Ogden, Opal Davis, Thelma Morelan, Marion Heidbrink and Karen Orr. Also a guest Betty McGinness.

The group will climax the club's activities with a picnic at Wilson Park June 18, before beginning their summer hiatus.

The picnic was originally begun so the mothers in the club could join their children in celebration of the end of the school year. Now after 30-plus years the members are catering to their grandchildren.

The club will be reactivated following the start of the 1991-1992 school year. Re-activating the club following the beginning of the new school year is a practice the group has followed since its inception in 1960.

Holy Family Fest set for June 21-23

Fun, friends and food will be available on June 21, 22, 23 at Holy Family Catholic Church grounds, 2600 Washington Ave.

Holy Family parishioners are busy with plans and meetings in preparation for its third annual Family Fest.

Benny Gabriel and Shirley Jansen, co-chairmen, are pulling together all their communities and friends to offer the community an enjoyable weekend.

As usual there will be a good variety of food and beverage, with each day having a special dinner fare. Friday at 5 p.m., it is fish. Saturday at 4 p.m. pork steak, and Sunday at noon, a chicken dinner will be offered. Games of chance and fun will be offered for children and adults. Bingo will be offered each day, also. And the carnival will be there for everyone's enjoyment, offering "special purchase" tickets and a matinee.

Music will be provided Friday by "The Poika Connection," Saturday by Granite City's own "B Street," and Sunday by "The Horizon."

The music and dancing will begin each evening at 7 p.m., except Sunday, at 5 p.m. In addition to all the regular picnic activities, there will be a "Walk" on Saturday morning to get the people moving, and Sunday there will be a pancake and sausage breakfast from 9 a.m. until noon.

Sunday night at 7:30, the big question will be answered: Who will win the new 1991 car or truck? That is when the winning raffle tickets are drawn for all the prizes.

Holy Family parishioners are hoping to see everyone on the grounds behind the church for a fun-filled weekend, starting on Friday at 5 p.m., and at noon on Saturday and Sunday.

Baptist Association tours New Salem

A tour in the New Salem area was enjoyed on May 28 by members of the Saints Alive group from the Madison County Baptist Association.

En route to New Salem, the tourists stopped at Bergman's Restaurant and Donut Shop in Raymond, Ill., where fresh-made donuts and coffee were enjoyed.

Details of the old residences and antique furnishings were heard during a visit to Lincoln Village. Dinner was served at the Heritage House in Springfield on the return trip.

Dr. Elyn Wilkinson, pastor of Third Baptist Church, served as trip coordinator and planner.

Transportation by van was furnished by Calvary Baptist Church and Second Baptist Church.

Serving as drivers were Devon Graves, Calvary youth minister, and LaVerna Corbitt from Second Baptist.

Participating in the trip were Myra Grote, Jenne Peters, Louise Acocks, Vera Kirkpatrick, Virgil Stogsdill, Olive Stogsdill, Betty Eggeneyer, Dorothy Sabo, Fran Ostregna.

Real heroes propel Robertson's acting career

Following in the footsteps of real-life heroes has paid off for Cliff Robertson.

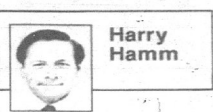

Robertson, 65, has probably been called upon to play real people more than any other performer.

It all began in 1963, when President John F. Kennedy, a friend, personally requested that Robertson portray him in Kennedy's autobiographical film on his exploits in World War II, "PT 109."

Following the popularity of that film and Robertson's excellent reviews, he was called on to portray people like Mel Fisher, the man credited with discovering all the gold in Key West; Henry Ford, in a two-part television miniseries on the legendary car manufacturer; astronaut Buzz Aldrin, the first man on the moon; and Playboy magazine founder Hugh Hefner in the Bob Fosse feature film "Star 80."

In his latest picture, "Wild Hearts Can't Be Broken," Robertson again portrays a real person, the late Dr. W.F. Carver, owner of a Wild West traveling stunt show during the Depression.

"I did a little research on him," Robertson says, "and I found he was a fascinating guy. He had been not only a partner of Buffalo Bill Cody, he had also been the champion rifle shooter of the world.

"When this film picks up his life, it's 1932 and the height of the Depression and he's a pretty unhappy man, partly because of the economic problems and his efforts to keep his show alive, but also because his wife had left him because she wanted to be an actress."

Robertson, who is a native of La Jolla, Calif., started on his road to success in his feature film debut when he was cast by director Joshua Logan in the critically acclaimed adaptation of William Inge's Broadway classic, "Picnic."

"Picnic" was a special movie," Robertson says. "I think it was one of the first big production pictures about a small town.

And that small town, although it was a small town in Kansas, represented a lot of small towns throughout America."

Robertson won a Best Actor Oscar in 1969 for his role in the film "Charly," in which he played a mentally imbalanced man coming to grips with life in a "normal" world.

Robertson says he has written a sequel to "Charly" he has budgeted at $6 million, but admits the project has been on the shelf for many years because Robertson says he's not good at going out and "hawking" something he has written.

Robertson has just returned from Australia where he worked on a film about sailing for producer Francis Ford Coppola, called "Wind." It's being directed by Carroll Ballard.

Robertson currently lives 90 miles out of New York City in a small community called Water Mill, N.Y.

"I don't plan on ever retiring," Robertson said. "My work is my vacation. But my place up here is very peaceful and surrounded by potato farms. It's my Walden's Pond."

CLIFF ROBERTSON plays Dr. W.F. Carver, the gruff owner of a traveling Wild West stunt show.
